

Summer Stuff Jr. 2011

FOR FAMILIES OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL-AGE STUDENTS IN THE BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Get ready for summer!

Are you looking for great summer ideas for children? Summer Stuff Jr. has dozens! In these pages, you will find all kinds of summer camps, programs and activities especially for children—including day camps, overnight camps, camps for children with special needs, classes, learning and recreational opportunities, and activities for families.

First, read through Summer Stuff Jr. and circle the listings that your children might like. Then, visit their websites or call them. Don't be put off by the cost. Many camps and programs offer scholarships or reduced fees based on what a family can pay. Just ask!

Next, apply—and do it now, especially if you are requesting financial aid. Many programs are “first come, first served,” and they fill up fast. If possible, apply on-line to save time.

Good luck—and have a great summer!

Read this first.

When we say: We mean:

Entering grades.....	The grade your child will be in next September
Languages	The languages spoken by the staff, in addition to English
Hours	Monday-Friday unless otherwise stated
Deadline.....	The last day to apply

What to Look For in a Summer Camp or Program

After you have picked the camps or programs that work best with your schedule and would be most interesting to your child, get more information about them. Call each camp and ask lots of questions.

Some questions to ask program and camp staff:

- Is the camp or program accredited or licensed? If so, by whom? If not, why not?
- What training does camp staff receive on safety, supervision, counseling, problem solving, and other issues unique to working with young children?
- Does the price include everything, or are there extra charges for transportation, horseback riding, food service, overnights, registration, clothing, etc.?
- If transportation is provided, what are the specifics?
- If before and after camp activities are offered, who is with the children and what will they be doing?
- Are there competitive activities (such as team sports)? Is your child comfortable with the level of competition?
- How can parents stay in touch with their children during camp? Are phone calls or email allowed?
- How does the camp meet campers' special dietary or physical needs?
- Is there an open house before camp starts so parents can tour the camp and meet the director?
- Does the camp have parent visiting days?

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE JUNIOR RANGER PROGRAM

There are many National Historical Parks in Boston, and each has park rangers to give tours and answer questions. When you visit a site, your child can take a trip through time and become a National Historical Park Junior Ranger.

To get started, pick up a Junior Ranger Activity Book at a Boston National Historical Park Visitor Center:

- Downtown at 15 State Street
- Charlestown Navy Yard

Complete the checklist, present the handbook to a park ranger at either visitor center, and receive a Junior Park Ranger Certificate. And remember: All sites are free.

If you can't make it to the park, or just want to have some fun learning about Boston history, check out NPS's WebRanger programs on their website:

- Powder Monkey – Learn about a boy's life on board the USS Constitution in 1812.
- Patriot Spy – Sneak past British soldiers and deliver a letter to Paul Revere.

- Junior Ranger Gazette – an on-line newsletter for kids about the National Parks.

Boston Public Schools Summer School

All children need to learn to read, write and do math. Some children need more time than others to learn those skills really well.

Boston's schools offer help to students who need more time. As part of the district's "transition services," students in kindergarten through grade 12 can get extra reading and math classes during the summer.

If a student needs extra help, it's important to get it now to avoid more serious problems later. Summer school, with small classes and special attention for each student, is a great place to give your child the help he or she needs to catch up in reading and math.

Q. Who is eligible for Summer Transition Services?

A. Students will be invited according to the following priorities:

1. English language learners at English Language Development (ELD) levels 1-4
2. Students who have not yet attained "proficiency" on MCAS
3. Students who have not met BPS benchmarks for promotion to the next grade
4. Students who failed ELA, ESL and/or math

Q. When will I know if my child is being offered summer school?

A. In mid-February, schools sent out "warning notices" to families whose children are in danger of not meeting the benchmarks by June. At the end of June, parents whose children are recommended to attend summer school will receive a formal notice.

Q. Who decides if a child goes to summer school?

A. The principal and the child's teacher.

Q. What if my child is absent during summer school?

A. If a child misses more than two days, he or she is dismissed from the program.

Q. What happens if my child goes to summer school, but doesn't meet benchmarks?

A. The principal will make the decision about promotion.

Q. Where will my child go to summer school?

A. Parents may choose three schools offering summer school. The student will be assigned to the top choice where there is an available seat in the appropriate program.

Q. Does summer school include any activities besides ELA and math?

Yes! Art, music, sports and dance are all woven into the school day for enrichment, exercise and fun.

Q. Who else can I talk with about summer school?

A. Your child's principal and teacher can answer your questions.

Q. Can I send my child to camp after summer school?

A. Yes. Boston Centers for Youth & Families (BCYF) have set aside slots in their

The place for finding Out-of-School Time programs in the City of Boston

This growing resource brings together program information from many sources. Check back often to find out more about the rich array of out-of-school time programs available for Boston's youth.

BOSTONavigator tracks programs that:

- are located in the City of Boston;
- provide staff supervision for youth age 5 to 18;
- operate during out-of-school time (including before school, after school, summers, weekends and school vacations).

Use the Program Locator to search by the age of the child for which you are seeking programming; the type of activity you want; and/or the zip code in which the program must be located.

BOSTONavigator was created through a collaboration of the City of Boston, BOSTnet, and Boston After School & Beyond.
