COMMUNITY LISTENING SESSIONS

Boston Public Schools

Boston Public Schools is seeking your input for our next Superintendent. We want to hear from parents, students, teachers, school leaders and the community at large on what characteristics and experience our next Superintendent should have.

Please join us at the following community listening sessions to participate in the process to help us identify the individual that will lead Boston Public Schools for years to come.

LISTENING SESSIONS:

Childcare will be available at all listening sessions.
